CALGARY'S NEW URBAN CULTURE IN THE COMMUNITY OF INGLEWOOD

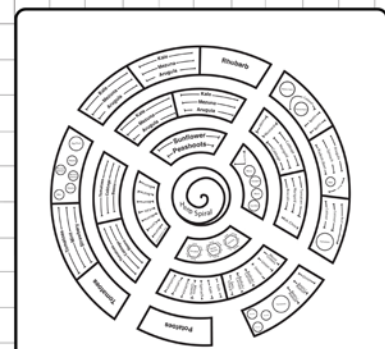

2012
Permaculture
Design

Gratitude goes to the following contributors:
Gigging Chi Tree, Leaf Ninjas, Calgary Cottage Garden, Puzzle Permaculture, Calgary Horticultural Society, Shaun Freezen / Freezen Design, Living Soil Solutions, Apex Permaculture, Betsy Watson / ABC Agriories, Roundwood Bee, Amazing garden volunteers, Kerilyn and David Dinkler

Design and Mapping by:
Shaun FreeZen (www.FreeZen.ca) &
Kym Chi (www.GiggingChiTree.com)

On August 12, 2012 the Inglewood community suffered from a major hail storm. The damage from the hail caused a large amount of the produce in the AREA garden to be destroyed, so we have done some reseeded.

Permaculture is about consciously designing systems, planning for long term resiliency and accepting feedback. In light of the recent event, we will be revising our design considering the weather patterns in our community, look for some great new additions into the 2013 season!

The above diagram shows what was planted before August 12, 2012 and the diagram below shows what is currently planted.

SACRED COMMERCE

BUSINESS PATH OF AWAKENING

The acknowledgement of others, as whole human beings and people, is the highest investment. Creating money as an of exchange of goods, services and communication is a sacred opportunity.

OFFERING What does authentic business communications look like? (both internal and external.) What is the next level beyond sustainability? What if personal empowerment and awakening was the context at your workplace? What if management meant being accountable for individual emergence of one's staff as well as the well being of one's company? What if the mission of your business was to usher in a sustainable, spiritually fulfilling society? How does it all integrate seamlessly into your current organizational structure and policies?

Regardless of your position at work, this course will provide you with the tools to embark on the path to creating a more productive, fulfilling and profitable Life for all.

Come with us on this two day journey of awakening for business, its employees and all stakeholders. Sacred Commerce trained facilitators Erin Ross and Yebuny Johnson will be your guides on this exploration of interconnectedness of self and business. Hear their stories, their experiences and cocreate your own.

Rev Billy: Earthalujah

Yes, you read correctly... Visionary media theorist and communications professor Douglas Rushkoff, will be canonized by Reverend Billy & The Stop Shopping Gospel Choir during this Sunday's Church of Earthalujah service in New York.

You too can enjoy what will surely be both an enlightening and zany beatification ceremony, live, from your very own screen. Watch it this Sunday, March 13th at 7:30pm here:

<http://www.RevBilly.com/EarthalujahLive>

That's 7:30pm New York local time, using the Summer Daylight Savings clock, which begins this Sunday

If you are unfamiliar with the potent and boisterous art activism of Reverend Billy & The Church of Stop Shopping, check out the trailer for his 2007 feature documentary, What Would Jesus Buy

As well, this sleek two minute drop from Douglas Rushkoff sums up his most current, and independent publication, the 144 page life manual for the digital age Program or be Programmed.

The quick mashing of these two short video's will reveal the sheer brilliance of what Sundays theatrically activating hybrid potentials will be: a pocket of fuel and visionary seed delivery for any integrity driven human.

If these media bites are so polished with glossy apple sheen that you are unable to find yourself inside of them, here is an informal and raw lecture by "Saint" Rushkoff, straight from the classroom floor at NYU - including post-lecture discussion.

Among a broad scope of his accomplishments and accolades, in 2004 Douglas Rushkoff won the first Neil Postman award for Career Achievement in Public Intellectual Activity.

The focal hub of Rushkoff's work, including information on his many other books, can be found at rushkoff.com

The Church of Life After Shopping is a project of The Immediate Life, a New York based arts organization using theater, humor, and grassroots organizing to advance individuals and communities towards a more equitable future - starting today.

Reverend Billy & The Stop Shopping Gospel Choir partners with citizens, grassroots organizations and progressive visionaries to produce dynamic, informed public campaigns that enact our core values - participatory democracy, ecological sustainability, and the preservation of vibrant communities and local economies.

Journal of Visionary Culture

The latest issue of CoSM Journal #6: Human/Nature is available now!

"Extracting poison from the nature field must become an alchemical experimental process that humanity is learning in the twenty-first century. The artists, activists and philosophers in this issue of CoSM Journal have each examined the challenge from its deepest source and appear to be expressions of a world-centric or planet-centered self. These leaders represent important new archetypes, heroes and models for us to embody."
- Chief Editors Alex and Alison Gray

CoSM Journal provides a forum for the emergence of visionary culture and shares with its readers the work and stories of artists, thinkers and community builders who are dedicated to transformative living and committed to the integration of wisdom and the arts. It is offered to inform, connect, and inspire the evolving global awareness.

This fresh 160 page media tome features global eco-activists helping to save our planet, and is a flowering garden of visionary art from 6 continents of the world. For a sample of the artwork and articles featured in CoSM Journal: Volume 6, click the download link below.

Fostering a growing global community of visionary artist and writers, this issue of the CoSM Journal has been printed in limited numbers and is a collectors item. Contribute towards creating The Chapel of Sacred Mirrors and to the growth of its Journal by purchasing a copy today!
